Dear Mary
we have so much to give this year as we did last year as Best of luck to you and mine

Dear Mary,
always stay the sweet
you are!
Mary Jo

Dear Mary,
Have fun at J.C.
next year for me.
Too! Lots of luck always,

Pat & Leonard

Dear Mary;

Love, Estel

Write to me and Bill, we have a good life

♦ ♦ ♦ history

WE THE graduating class of 1949, will be able to look back through the years with many happy remembrances of our Alma Mater, Palm Beach Junior College.

Our college career began in September, 1947, when we, young, innocent, and somewhat uncertain, first registered on the hill as freshmen. At this time we underwent a period of orientation and examinations. We selected Luther Arendall as president to guide us.

Social activities were increased by the addition of the Egalite Club, while the Philo and Thi Del Clubs, and Phi Da Di Fraternity, expanded to meet the enlarged enrollment.

It was during this year that the student body, with the assistance of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsored the Florida-Georgia football game. It was this year also, that the Esquire Club held their first beach party at Manhattan Beach. This was followed by a Sadie Hawkins Field Day, given by the Co-Eds, at the S. U. B. at Morrison Field.

In the latter part of December we attended the annual Christmas dance at the Norton Art Gallery, followed by the Philo and Thi Del Clubs' banquets at the South Ocean Club.

We returned the first of January to concentrate on exam week. Soon afterwards the Student Body sponsored the Gene Krupa dance in an attempt to raise funds for furniture to use in our new S. U. B.

The first of the second semester we experienced "Rat Day" (which replaced "Rat Week"). This was not soon forgotten.

We were kept quite busy with the Minstrel, which was presented in March. In April we held open house at Morrison Field.

February 14 the Thi Dels gave their first annual Valentine Dance; the annual Philo Ball followed on March 12. The Co-Ed Club sponsored a fashion show using Junior College girls as models.

Our last month and a half of the college was crammed with hurried activities—the Lettermen's Sweetheart Dance, April 16; the Esquire Dance, May 14; the Phi Da Di Banquet at Leon and Eddie's May 17; and the Freshman-Sophomore banquet at the South Ocean Club.

The Big year for us, our Sophomore year, began with a bang and also a steady stream of activities. Danny Wick was elected president of the Student Body, Clyde Windham, vice-president; Janice Footer, secretary; and Barney Poston, treasurer. Our class officers were Cal Vitum, president; Marchal Caldwell, vice-president; Barbara Widell, secretary; and Gloria Miller, treasurer.

Our first event of the year was the Welcome Dance, given by the students to welcome the newcomers to P. B. J. C.

A tea to welcome the new girls was given by the Philo, Thi Del, and Egalite Clubs. A new fraternity, Alta Delpha, was added, which increased the activities. The Phi Da Di Fraternity also continued in full swing. Freshman "Rat Day" was held on November 13, and was climaxed by the Co-Ed's Sadie Hawkins dance.

Christmas came again and with it the annual Christmas Dance held at the S. U. B., December 21. Later came the Thi Del and Philo Banquets held at the Montemarte and South Ocean Club respectively. All too soon, however, we trudged back to face semester exams.

After the exams, cheerleaders were chosen. We chose Alice Tyson, Pat Clement, Dale Blair and Sara Roth to cheer our boys on to victory.

The Student Body gave a dance in the S. U. B. after the game with St. Petersburg on January 29.

After everyone was safely enrolled for the second semester, the Co-Ed Club held a camping trip to Camp Marjorie Daniel in Jupiter to make the new girls feel more at home. This was the first time anything like this had been tried; it was successful and everyone had a wonderful time.

On February 18 the Phi Theta Kappa honorary fraternity held the big Mardi Gras for which the students went "all out". First came the big parade with floats representing all clubs, climaxed by the fashion show, a tour of the campus, and the annual Thi Del Dance.

Next came the traditional Philo Arch Dance on March 12. This was followed by the Phi Da Di Play, The Dark House.

Pre-commencement activities were climaxed by the Lettermen's Sweetheart Dance; the Esquire Dance, the Phi Da Di Banquet, the Alta Delpha Banquet, the Freshman-Sophomore Banquet and the Sophomore Breakfast.

And then graduation was here. Baccalaureate Services were held May 29 followed by the commencement exercises May 31. Commencement was followed by a reception in the patio and a dance in the S. U. B. honoring the members of the graduating class.

We hated to say "good bye" to our Alma Mater, but we'll carry with us always the memory of hard work and the good times we had at GOOD OLE P. B. J. C.

LAST WILL AND

♦ ♦ ♦ testament

- I, Luther Arendell, will to Lee Peters my place in Mr. Duncan's Political Science class. I know she will make easier "A's" than I did.
- I, Kent Atwater, leave my slight ability as a stupid athlete to any freshman dumb enough to want it.
- I, Liz Barnes, hereby will my walk to freshman Dolores Smith.
- I, Robert Berryman, leave to Marjory Dancy and Patsy Huff my ability to laugh at everybody's jokes.
- I, Don Bicknell, will that I be buried with wine, women and song!
- I, Earle D. Brailmont, being in sound mind and body do hereby leave Jack Copeland my T-shirt build.
- I, Estelle Brown, will my poise and grace to Shirley Jorgenson.
- I, Marchal Caldwell, leave my large collection of Mr. Newell's tests to the entire freshman class, cause they'll sure be able to use them.
- I, Henry J. Camarot, leave to Pete Aiello careful unprepared speeches that he might use in Mrs. Watson's class.
- I, Paul Capp, leave my water hole rights to Bill Harvey.
- I, Julie Cartwright, will to Dale Blair my ability to laugh at anything and everything.
- I, Ray Crosby, leave my cheerleader job to anyone who will take it.
- I, Arthur Crouch, leave my second year accounting book to the most intelligent accounting student next year.
- I, LaVerne Derryberry, will my long hair to Kitty Hardin and my "gullibleness" to Archie Kramer.
- I, Vivian Duncan, in the usual unstable state of mind do hereby will all the men on the campus to Shirley Jorgenson.
- I, Martha Ann Dunn, will to Raymond Bates "Betsy", and to Phyllis Johnson I leave my ability to make 'B's while living in Shepley Hall.
- I, Yvonne Eaton, in a very sane state of mind, do hereby leave my ability to blush at Professor Duncan's jokes to Joannie Byrd.
- I, Janice Footer, do hereby bequeath my long legs to Janet Claypoole, my stringy blonde hair to Janis Hedrick (darn her) and my year round tan to Patsy Huff.
- I, Wallace S. Hamrick, Jr., being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath any further trips to St. Petersburg to Jerry Thomas, who will probably be here in the future years.
- I, Mary-Jo Hartwell, being of sound (?) mind and body to hereby leave to Lee Peters and Pat Rose my ability to speak Spanish, solve for X, and be at four places at the same time.
- I, Louise Hollis, do hereby leave to Muriel Logan and Roslyn Smalley my unreceived bid to Phi Theta Kappa! To my little sister, Nancy Alexander, I leave the saying "I see"; and to Pat Clement my quick "comebacks".
- I, John Hucks, will my good grades to Jack Holloway.
- I, Norma Ives, will my ability to play bridge and be in the Sub as much as I can to my little sister, Janis Hedrick.
- I, George Jones, will to Bob Newhart my "shiny fast car".
- I, Helen Kalil, being of sound mind (?) do hereby will and bequeath to Gwen Mitchell my inability to study in the library, and my endless ability to play bridge in the Sub; and to Roslyn Smalley my technique in the gentle art of popping gum.
- I, Edward King, leave my nothing to Kent Smith, he doesn't need anything.
- I, George S. King, leave my large volume of class notes in all my subjects to John Bregger, hoping that he can read them and will study them more than I did.
- I, Tom Kobayashi, leave my room in the dormitory to the best freshman who is in need of the comfort of home.
- I, Richard Kay Kramer, will to Dan Chitwood my romantic appeal to women.
- I, Elmer Kreiser, being in sordid condition of physical exhaustion and mental paralysis do bequeath my ability to "fool" the girls to any fool that would like to try it.

- I, Crystal Livengood, do will and bequeath a portion of all my lunches in the patio to Buddy Crussell and Cecil Fultz.
- I, Louise McLester, being very dizzy, will the magazines on the high shelves in the library to Lucille Meebold.
- I, Jim McMillan, leave nothing. If I can't take it with me, I won't go!
- I, Gloria Miller, do hereby will and bequeath to my little sister Edie Hall, all the fun and pleasures I have had in the past two years at J. C.
- I, Jeanne Muller, in my usual "no-brain-at-all" attitude, do hereby leave my two-way stretch to Mr. Duncan.
- I, Shirley Nichols will to "Chuck" Gionet my lovely baritone voice.
- I, Marjorie Olson, hereby will and bequeath my math books to Johnny Riddle; and to my little sister, Barbara Conley, I leave my ability never to be upset.
- I, Barney Poston, having experienced the following situation, thoroughly leave the following advice to the married men of the freshman class: Do not let your wife have a child during exams —!! Rough!
- I, Bob Pratt, leave my ability to steal wives to John Hucks. I leave my British accent to Marchal Caldwell.
- I, Nannette Rapport, leave Mrs. Holt's accounting class to anyone who can take up where I left off.
- I, Monte Robertson, leave my all-round abilities to Roy Ligon.
- I, Jimmie Robinson, leave my moustache to Bob Newhart.
- I, Babe Ruth, leave to Kent Atwater my huge brain and accounting skill.
- I, Arthur Schiff, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath my two years (I hope) at PBJC to any graduating senior of high schools.
- I, John Seawell, leave my strength to Chuck Gionet . . . he needs it!
- I, Jerry Thomas, leave my coaching ability to Coach MacDonald, and also enough money to make all trips adequately.
- I, Hugh Tyndall, bequeath to any future freshman who wants it, my skill in working mathematics.
- I, Betty Vardaman, will my laugh to Gay Bal, and my ability to eat at all times to Shirley Jorgenson.
- I, Janet Vinal, leave my height and quiet ways to Cynthia Forman to do away with riots in the dorm.
- I, Cal Vittum, leave my propensity in math 101 to anyone that wants it.
- I, Winifred Waggener, do hereby will and bequeath to Phyllis Johnson all the fun I have had at PBJC.
- I, Don Walton, will my natural wavy hair to Jack Copeland.
- I, Mary Walton, will my greatness of stature to Evalyn Miller.
- I, Danny Wick, leave my president's gavel to John Bregger.
- I, Barbara Widell, leave my 7th hours on Monday and Friday to anyone who is dumb enough to sign up for them.
- I, Howard Wolfe, being of (?) mind and rugged body, hereby leave my bus run and 140 kids to any sucker! I leave my interest in the bridge games to Raymond Bates, and my seat in Business Law to Nancy Alexander.
- I, William Wood, being of ? mind, leave all my good times and hard work to any freshman who would like them.

♦ ♦ ♦ prophecy

POSSESSING a superior intelligence, due to the facts beyond control, yours truly, Lu Hollis and assistants embarked upon a world wide tour in the year 1970, to locate and report on activities concerning the greatest class of them all — the PBJC "Class of '49."

Stopping at Atlantic City to watch the "Miss America" contest, we found Norma Ives and Teddy Waggener trying to outshine each other in the new metallic bathing suits (aluminum, no less), while Jerry Thomas and Eddie King, with their eyes in the usual position, acted as the All American Judges.

We left the glitter of Atlantic City and visited one of the better known New York night clubs where the main attraction was the up and coming singer, Babe Ruth. He was accompanied, by the way, by Marjorie Olson, who is planning a wedding in the early spring. Her fiance is the Mayor of New York.

During our stay in New York we attended the Metropolitan Opera because we had learned from proper authority that Jan Vinal and Ray Crosby were starring in the leading roles.

On our way to Washington we were attracted by an odd looking individual watching us closely. We thought at first it was Sherlock Holmes come to life, but upon closer view found it to be Harry Hales who told us he was working for the FBI and was looking for the mad lawyer, Kay Kramer, who had escaped the asylum.

Remember LaVerne Derryberry? Her seldom heard voice has now started her on the road to success. She just won a hog-calling contest in Sleepy Hollow, Kentucky.

After practicing for lo these many years, Barney "Google" Poston has finally connected with the fur-lined spittoon at fifty paces.

Liz Barnes, after all these years of hitch-hiking, finally reached the Georgia State line only to find that a fifteen year residence law is now required before marriage in that state. Liz is said to have commented, "Well, I forgot my man anyway."

Jim Robinson is resigning from his position as basketball star to become governor of Georgia while George Jones is doing a thriving business at his hotel up in Lake Plastered, New York.

In one of the more desolate parts of Florida we came upon a small shack; a small group was gathered on the porch. A closer examination proved it to be Lutie Arendell, (Ace Loafer), who was teaching his children how to make an "A" in Political Science from Mr. Duncan.

Bill Howell, the well-known hobo whose face is so often seen in the station of the F. E. C. Railroad, has made an even bigger name for himself. Last week he became the first person to pick up the ten millionth cigarette butt in Florida.

While driving through West Palm Beach, we caught a glimpse of Nannette Rapport (who is looking for a cure for insomnia) now featured as senior bed tester at Don Walton's "Nu Downy-Bed Sleep Shoppe."

Bob Pratt, who long aspired to success as an architect, got somewhat sidetracked and has recently been decorating all the local nightclubs. Oh yes, Marchal Caldwell, who worked for the U. S. Post Office for so long now has his "Dirty Mutt's Pony Express" over in the darker part of town.

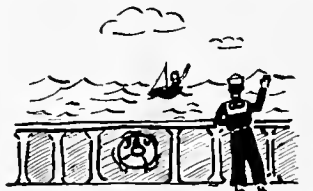

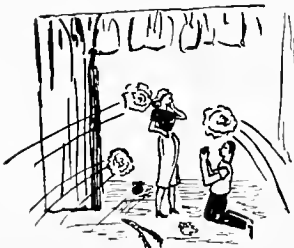

Returning to the place of our younger days, we found that Helen Kalil has just received her Doctor's degree in Bridge-ology. She is now employed as Chief Kibitzer at the SUB of Palm Beach Junior College.

Did you hear the terrible thing that happened to Kent Atwater? He entered a swimming meet, was last seen swimming in the back-stroke event, and hasn't been heard from since. Walter Brown who last saw Kent on earth reported he had been in fine "spirits."

While in Palm Beach, we stayed at the "Hotel Deluxe" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wolfe. The hotel has sixty rooms and six baths and has run the Breakers out of business.

After leaving Florida we went to California. In Hollywood we were most astounded to hear that Barbara Widell is the 20th Century Wolves highest paid screen star. After inviting us to her Beverly Hill's home (with a private swimming pool) she took us on a tour of the studio. While on our tour of the studio, we heard the familiar drums of the famous Wick and learned that he is the leader of two bands.

While walking in down town Los Angeles we heard a blood curdling yell! Dashing madly into the building from which the noise came we almost collided with Tom Anderton and Tom Kobayashi who were in dentistry and working on a painless method for extracting teeth. The experiment was being tried on Mary Walton, who was acting assistant (and exercising her tonsils to full extent). As Mary has a limited number of teeth, they will soon be in need of a new assistant.

We also ran across Arthur Crouch who told us he was in the Semi-pro baseball league making a big "hit" and Shirley Nichols who has been busy lately cutting down old "Marine Uniforms" to fit the little "Whites."

Remember Lloyd Clager? Well, I know for a fact that he is climbing the ladder of success in the railroad business. At least every time I see him he's riding atop a box car.

Cal Vittum and Don Bicknell, the boys who just love surgery, have now attained their ambitions. They are constant "cut-ups" as head butchers at Polasky's Market.

George King is a professor of Mathematics in UCLA. He is making an improvement on the mechanical brain. Incidentally, he is also up for president of the Mathematicians' Union.

Gloria Miller, through her diligence, has become president of the Cultured Cat Food Company, Inc. She is also raising pigeons as a hobby.

In a few of the other Western States we ran into quite a few of our old classmates. Robert Berryman has become a preacher in Oregon. He raises bees as a hobby. We were inspecting his bees when we made the startling discovery we had come upon a hornet's nest instead of a bee hive. We quickly continued our journey.

Wally Hamrick was seen peering from behind bars at Alcatraz where he awaited execution for the "perfect shot." It seems the authorities misunderstood the report and convicted Wally for murder. The truth of the matter is, Wally had rung a basket at 50 yards while playing basketball for the "Home Sweet Homicides."

Jean Muller has finally come to the eye of the public by taking the wooden Indian's place in front of the cigar store while the former is being repaired. During her lunch hour she models her latest invention, "Mulefiends' Muscle-Binders," the girdle with the four-way stretch.

In Texas we met Henry Camarot, who has become a world famous lawyer and is handling a difficult case . . . Jim Winchester, who is a big man in the cattle business, has been bothered by rustlers. They have the leader, Earl Brailmont, but he won't confess. The case goes on trial next week.

In other parts of the United States, we ran across several more of our classmates. Yvonne Eaton has become America's number one CPA. She and her violinist husband live on a farm not far from Alice Tyson and her small family of twelve (who are all quite "chubby" little rascals.)

Mary-Jo Hartwell, now commonly known as "swivel-hips", was overheard at Beebe's Beer Hall the other night exclaiming, "Buy me some more champagne, pal!"

Crystal Belle Livengood and Jeannine Converse have jobs teaching in a private elementary school. They are now waiting for their retirements to come through.

We heard from a trustworthy source that Julie Cartwright is following her husband (who is in the navy) around the world in an eight foot schooner. Martha Anne Dunn is attending F. S. U. where she is majoring in golf. (She has already majored in all the other subjects). She plans to graduate in June.

Next we went abroad to see what advances other classmates had made. While on board ship we happened to meet several classmates. Pat McCormick was with a group on a good will tour. She had just secured her second divorce and was getting away from it all. Millionaires John Hucks and Roy Ligon were on vacation making a tour of the world..

Our first stop was England. We attended an open forum where John Seawell, well-known author, Allen Ewing, famous commentator, and Sidney Grovenstein, lecturer, were the main speakers.

Walking down the main street of London, we met Louise McLester and Vivian Duncan and their husbands. They were on a chain of missions tour and had just returned from Africa.

While roaming through the forests of old England, we were surprised to see Bill Wood in his Lincoln green Forester's Uniform out on a limb frantically calling for help while Betty Vardaman, with that "I hate myself when I do these things" look in her eyes, chopped vigorously.

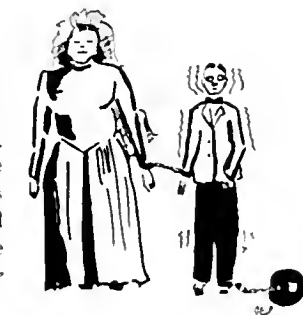

Upon leaving England, we went to Germany and arrived just in time for a world shaking event. The great scientist Arthur Schiff was testing his latest discovery . . . a jet rocket to the moon. Our greatest surprise came when we learned that Hugh Tyndall was to be the Test pilot. Having the utmost faith in our classmates, but hating to see disaster strike, we hurriedly left for France.

In France our first stop was Paris where we attended a fashion show given by none other than the famous fashion designer, Estelle Brown, who was modeling her own fashions. I bet that Monte Robertson, who always kidded us about being a professional gambler, never dreamed that he'd be cleaning up in business in Europe. He's the janitor at the Monte Carlo.

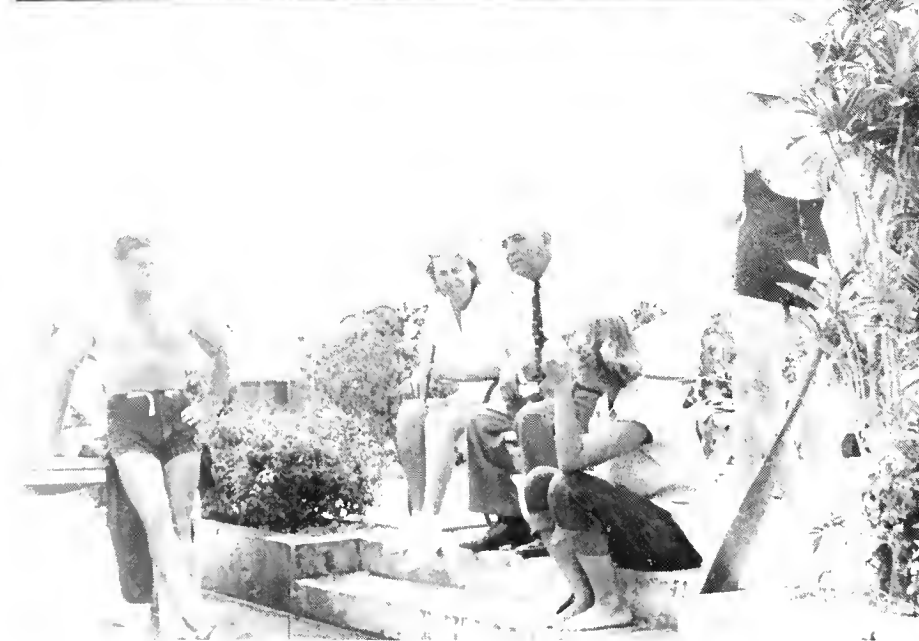

Craving the atmosphere of the tropics and hoping to encounter a few more fellow classmates, we left Europe, and sailing into the harbor of Tahiti, we were astonished to see a boy we had voted most likely to succeed, James McMillan, diving for pennies thrown from the boat by tourists. Between gurgles, he informed us that Bob Crandall and Nelson Wilder could be found on the beach searching for an answer to the Polish question.

Back to back under a palm tree at Tahiti were seen "Nature Boy" Capp, ambitiously polishing his mother-of-pearl oysters with which he plans to make his Wal' Street millions and "Legs" Footer posing for "Longies" hosiery ads.

Well exhausted, we settled back to enjoy the comfortable trip now secure and serene in the fact that all our classmates were successful in their chosen tasks. Oh, yes, Elmer Kreiser just made the briefest speech of his life. He just said "I do" and is determined to show the world he can be happy though married.

NEW MEN'S ORGANIZATION FOUNDED ON CAMPUS

Alta Delpha Group Approved by Faculty

A new men's club has been founded on the campus of Palm Beach Junior College. The constitution of the ALTA DELPHA club was ratified on the 13th day of January, 1949, and recognized as an official school organization by Dr. John I. Leonard, president of the Junior College, and the faculty on January 26.

Clyde Windham, president of the new club, stated "The problem of an acute lack of men's clubs at the Junior College brought about the actions of nine of the local students in forming this new organization."

"The purpose of this club is to advance the name of Palm Beach Junior College; primarily by promoting friendship and loyalty among its members, and secondarily, by promoting good fellowship and school spirit in the student body" is quoted from the constitution of this newest organization at J. C. The charter members of ALTA DELPHA feel that their's has been an important step toward building fellowship and tradition at Palm Beach Junior College.

Expressing the feelings of all the charter members, Mr. Windham declares: "It has been an accepted tradition in the past that there is only one men's club at P. B. J. C. This fact has been carried to the various universities of the country by our alumni, and has become an established fact in the local community. The founding of ALTA DELPHA will thus be recorded in the annals of the history of the school as an important step toward building tradition and furthering the growth of Palm Beach Junior College." An expression of the need for another men's club has been quite predominant among the students and the faculty. This fact has failed to be the found-

PHI THETA KAPPAS PLAN GIGANTIC ALL-SCHOOL MARDI GRAS CARNIVAL

Look out for something big when the eighteenth of February rolls 'round. At least that's Don Bicknell's story. According to Don, who is president of the Phi Theta Kappa club, that day in that little month will probably go down in Palm Beach Junior College history. The reason he says is that the Kappa Kids are planning a bang-up, all-school Mardi Gras carnival that will be the biggest thing in the school's history. The carnival will include a dance, athletic exhibition, fashion show, art show and many other varied shows and activities usually linked with a carnival. A ping-pong tournament to determine the college champ is to be staged, too. A cup will be presented to the winner. Booths have been donated to house various games. In addition to all this, Prexy Bicknell says that Dr. Leonard has agreed to hold a college open house in conjunction with the carnival. Tours will be conducted over the entire campus. All are invited to attend.

Pre-carnival festivities will get underway in the afternoon before the carnival. A parade consisting of floats representing the clubs of the college will be held in the downtown area. A prize will be awarded for the best float.

The fashion show will be sponsored by the Co-Ed Club. Janice Footer is chairman. The campus models feminine attire is being loaned to the show by downtown merchants.

THE ED SAID:

From the very moment you open your eyes until you go to sleep at night you are faced with answering numerous questions. Many are logical and deserve thoughtful answers, but there are so many that are just plain senseless.

As you sit on the edge of your bed, some thoughtful fellow is bound to look in on you and ask, "Are you awake?"

He asks you cereal until an ask, "Since when did you eat breakfast?"

He asks you, "How long have you been here?"

He asks you, "How long have you been here?"

He asks you, "How long have you been here?"

BIRDS

Idle gossipers!
Like women talking over backyard fences!
Balls of fluff and feathers tossed by the playful wind,
Plunging to the Earth like messengers
from the Gods,
Flaming arrows shot into the sky,
Solemn, ritual dancers on a quiet lawn,
Pitiful bundles of feathers!
Little politicians, screaming at the world!

Respond with a smile and watch your friend's list grow.

Who Killed Chivalry?

By JERRY NEWMAN

I have heard many complaints from both sexes, regarding chivalry and courtesy, so out of sheer curiosity I decided that I would make it a point to take special notice, and see who practices the above the most. Before I begin, however, I must say that I am not a chivalry expert.

At the time I was a student at the college, I was grateful if you got up to give me your seat, but now they just flop into it, open their newspaper and push it in your face. He went on to say that as far as he was concerned, it's every man for himself.

By now I imagine some of you women, if not all, have murder in your eyes. Therefore, I reiterate, I have nothing against the fairer sex, but in my opinion, women who say "Chivalry is dead" should recognize the fact that perhaps they had a large part in killing it.

"This and That"

The annual is near completion. The Palm Beach Sun will publish it, and the engraving will be done in Miami. We have had good success by having Mrs. Laura Watson for supervisor, Mary Jo Hartwell for editor, Kitty Eaton for photographic editor (one of the biggest tasks on the staff), Shirley Nichols for business manager, Danny Wick for...

Hail, Junior College!

School of our dreams.

May you guide us, stand beside us,

Through the night may your light guide our schemes.

First as Freshmen, then as Sophomores,

Dear to us you'll ever be!

Fountain of wisdom, our faith's in thee!

Hail Alma Mater, we'll loyal be!

Dear Mary
Lots of Luck
and the best Always;
Heroes to the Following
School Year.
